“Burgundy hits top, but weather affects some regions”

It's been another turbulent year of weather in France and winemakers in several regions went into the 2017 wine harvest having already suffered at the hands of hail and frost. The 2017 year's drop in production is “mainly attributable to the severe spring frost that affected all the wine-growing regions to varying degrees at a sensitive time for the vine.

The bitter cold struck twice within a week in April, ravaging the fragile shoots and buds that had emerged prematurely after mild temperatures in March. To combat the frost, winemakers in Burgundy and Bordeaux set fires to bales of hay & in oil drums, then positioned them carefully between the rows of grapevines. Giant fans were also deployed to battle the cold, damp air settling on the plants. The cloud of smoke did its job in diverting the worst of the frost.

Direct contact with each producer is very enriching, since the wines tend to reflect the personality of those who produce them, in an interesting synergy between terroir, the micro climate and the land area where the grapes are planted, and the human intervention represented by the wine producer. I have met with 90% of the Wine producers in our 2018 collection and believe me there is no shortage of personality and passion!

In recent years there has been a huge movement towards organic and Biodynamic wines, considered by the skeptics as a mere marketing device! The core value of biodynamic farming involves working with nature, using only natural products and encouraging diversity with insects, animals, crops and soils, where the daily activities of planting, pruning, bottling or harvesting the crop are planned using the lunar calendar. In the initial years I was cynical of these tree-hugging wine makers until I realized we had a growing number of biodynamic and organic producers on our list (Marked with ♦), none who advertise the fact on the label! These are among the top growers in the world, passionate people who make wonderful wines that express their terroir all in harmony with nature.

*Most of our wines are directly imported * from France especially from Burgundy, Rhone, Bordeaux, Loire, Alsace and Languedoc - Roussillon, with the intention on offering both quality & value. All the producers are visited and each wine carefully tasted with the help of my Brother-in-Law, Vincent Avril, wine grower in* Chateauneuf-du-Pape. With such a large list I have marked a few of my “Coup de Coeur” with ❤️ !

The half bottle, dessert wines & large bottle selection is at the back of our list. We have also imported a selection of excellent Italian Estate & South African Wines, all of which are well worth trying.

Wines are chosen to deliver a good blend of quality, at excellent prices. Spending is no guarantee of quality, careful tasting however is!

Bill's Special Recommendations

VINCENT AVRIL Châteauneuf-du-Pape 'Clos des Papes',

The Clos des Papes originally formed part of the papal vineyards, first started bottling its wine as Clos des Papes in 1896 under the auspices of Paul Avril, whose family had been producing wine in the region since the 17th century. Paul was succeeded by his son Regis Avril and his grandson Paul Avril, who ran the winery from 1963 to 1987 and played an integral role in the formation of the Chateauneuf-du-Pape appellation. Having contributed greatly to the reputation and success of Rhone wines, Paul sadly passed away in 2009 at the age of 72. His son Paul-Vincent carried on the Clos des Papes legacy, since 1987 Vincent has built the "Clos des Papes" to iconic status, working the vineyard organically and winning the Wine Spectator "Number 1 Wine of the World" in 2007 for the 2005 vintage.

Although the 2005 and 2007 vintages of Clos des Papes are almost universally agreed to be two of the best wines that the estate has ever produced, the 2009 has more finesse and elegance. The vintage received a not-to-be-shrugged at 95 points from Robert Parker, who describes it "as unquestionably a top-flight seductive wine. Every foudre I tasted was beautifully pure displaying a deep ruby/plum color, sweet kirsch and black raspberry fruit, full body, decent acidity and sweet, velvety tannins."

The 2010 Chateauneuf-du-Pape Blanc may be one the finest white wine ever produced in Clos des Papes. An equal part blend of six different grapes, it exhibits terrific fruit intensity, lots of quince, anise, and nectarine and white peach notes, a full-bodied mouth feel.

CHATEAU DE MONTELIE Burgundy

There is no doubt that Eric is a real character and very much a 'hands-on' man. Every year, after negotiating the light squeeze through the gates of the splendid Château de Monthélie, we drive up to the front door confronted by a grinning, short-clad Eric de Suremain. He wears shorts come hell or high water, hail, wind or rain. You only have to observe his soil-encrusted hands to realise that he spends his entire life in the vineyard.

MAGNUM	*281	Châteauneuf de Monthélie 'La Velle' 1 ^{er} Cru	2013	€90.00

Wine is definitely his passion. Monthélie is often referred to 'that village next door to Meursault'. However, Eric's wines are certainly putting such ignorance to shame. The bio-dynamic viticultural methods set in place since 1996, some of the Côte d'Or's lowest yields (often on a par with Domaine Leroy), rigorous grape selection and a minimal intervention winemaking policy conspire to produce some of the purest, finest and most complex Burgundy available. The wines are aged in a mixture of large old wooden barrels and smaller used oak casks.

This is a splendid Domaine and the wines are getting better and better."

Clive Coates, MW, Cote D'Or

The wine world truly lost a master when, in January 2006, Denis tragically passed away. His son, Arnaud, had been working alongside the master for a number of vintages. His passion and ability has not only guarantee the Domaine for years to come, but the wines are without doubt among the very best in Burgundy.

PARIS

Les Vignerons Parisiens

Les Vignerons Parisiens is the first and only urban winery in Paris. Located in the 3eme Arrondissement, the enterprise was founded by Matthieu Bosser with two partners, oenologist Emmanuel Gagnepain and biodynamic viticulture consultant Frédéric Duseigneur. Their certified organic grapes are sourced from four growers, located in the communes of Visan and Sabran in the southern Rhône. Whilst the traceability of the grapes is known to the exact parcel, the wines are not allowed to carry any mention of appellation, since they are vinified outside the region and because all but one of the cuvees produced are single varietal wines for which no regional appellation exists. The wines are therefore all commercialised as Vin de France.

VINCENT AVRIL Châteauneuf-du-Pape ‘Clos des Papes’

The Clos des Papes originally formed part of the papal vineyards, first started bottling its wine as Clos des Papes in 1896 under the auspices of Paul Avril, whose family had been producing wine in the region since the 17th century. The 8th generation Paul sadly passed away in 2009 at the age of 72. His son Paul-Vincent carried on the Clos des Papes legacy, since 1987 Vincent has built the “Clos des Papes” to iconic status, working the vineyard organically and winning the Wine Spectator “Number 1 Wine of the World” in 2007 for the 2005 vintage with the 2015 getting a whopping 97/100 Parker score.

Although the 2005 and 2007 vintages of Clos des Papes are almost universally agreed to be two of the best wines that the estate has ever produced, the 2014 has more finesse and elegance. The vintage received a not-to-be-shrugged at 94 points from Robert Parker, who describes it “as unquestionably a top-flight seductive wine. Every foudre I tasted was beautifully pure displaying a deep ruby/plum color, sweet kirsch and black raspberry fruit, full body, decent acidity and sweet, velvety tannins.”
