“Frost Hits Harvest in 2016”

It's been a turbulent year of weather in France and winemakers in several regions went into the 2016 wine harvest having already suffered at the hands of hail and frost. This was a year when Burgundy suffered its worst frost since 1981. Hailstorms led to growers declaring 'states of catastrophe' in Chablis and Beaujolais. Loire and Champagne producers also suffered at the hands of the early season freeze. Languedoc winemakers thought they had survived relatively well until those in Pic-St-Loup north of Montpellier were hit by hail stones the size of golf balls. Although I was very pleasantly surprised by the excellent quality of many of the wine, the small yields give great concentration to many of the 2016 wines. Bordeaux came through reasonably unscathed, but drought-like conditions at the end of August left many producers praying for rain.

Direct contact with each producer is very enriching, since the wines tend to reflect the personality of those who produce them, in an interesting synergy between terroir, the micro climate and the land area where the grapes are planted, and the human intervention represented by the wine producer. I have met with 90% of the Wine producers in our 2018 collection and believe me there is no shortage of personality and passion!

In recent years there has been a huge movement towards organic and Biodynamic wines, considered by the skeptics as a mere marketing device! The core value of biodynamic farming involves working with nature, using only natural products and encouraging diversity with insects, animals, crops and soils, where the daily activities of planting, pruning, bottling or harvesting the crop are planned using the lunar calendar. In the initial years I was cynical of these tree-hugging wine makers until I realized we had a growing number of biodynamic and organic producers on our list (Marked with ♦), none who advertise the fact on the label! These are among the top growers in the world, passionate people who make wonderful wines that express their terroir all in harmony with nature.

*Most of our wines are directly imported * from France especially from Burgundy, Rhone, Bordeaux, Loire, Alsace and Languedoc – Roussillon, with the intention on offering both quality & value. All the producers are visited and each wine carefully tasted with the help of my Brother-in-Law, Vincent Avril, wine grower in* Chateauneuf-du-Pape. With such a large list I have marked a few of my “Coup de Coeur” with ❤️!

The half bottle, dessert wines & large bottle selection is at the back of our list. We have also imported a selection of excellent Italian Estate & South African Wines, all of which are well worth trying.

Wines are chosen to deliver a good blend of quality, at excellent prices. Spending is no guarantee of quality, careful tasting however is!

VINCENT AVRIL

Châteauneuf-du-Pape 'Clos des Papes',

The Clos des Papes originally formed part of the papal vineyards, first started bottling its wine as Clos des Papes in 1896 under the auspices of Paul Avril, whose family had been producing wine in the region since the 17th century. Paul was succeeded by his son Regis Avril and his grandson Paul Avril, who ran the winery from 1963 to 1987 and played an integral role in the formation of the Chateauneuf-du-Pape appellation. Having contributed greatly to the reputation and success of Rhone wines, Paul sadly passed away in 2009 at the age of 72. His son Paul-Vincent carried on the Clos des Papes legacy, since 1987 Vincent has built the "Clos des Papes" to iconic status, working the vineyard organically and winning the Wine Spectator "Number 1 Wine of the World" in 2007 for the 2005 vintage.

Although the 2005 and 2007 vintages of Clos des Papes are almost universally agreed to be two of the best wines that the estate has ever produced, the 2009 has more finesse and elegance. The vintage received a not-to-be-shrugged at 95 points from Robert Parker, who describes it "as unquestionably a top-flight seductive wine. Every foudre I tasted was beautifully pure displaying a deep ruby/plum color, sweet kirsch and black raspberry fruit, full body, decent acidity and sweet, velvety tannins."

The 2010 Chateauneuf-du-Pape Blanc may be one the finest white wine ever produced in Clos des Papes. An equal part blend of six different grapes, it exhibits terrific fruit intensity, lots of quince, anise, and nectarine and white peach notes, a full-bodied mouth feel.

DOMAINE RAMONET Burgundy

"Père" Ramonet was more than a character. He was, to use the old cliché – but it is true in this instance – a legend in his own lifetime. More or less from scratch, by dint of sheer hard work and a genius for wine, he built up one of the finest white wine domains in Burgundy. Today the name Ramonet is synonymous with top Chardonnay. The allocations for bottles are fought over, for every collector considers it his or her right to own some. Pierre Ramonet died in 1994 at the age of 88. He is much missed, but his echo lives on, and the wines, in the able hands of his grandson Noël and Jean-Claude since the 1984 vintage. They make every fine wines, more importantly, they are also very individual to Ramonet Domaine.

The total now exploited is 17 hectares. The Ramonet red wines from pinot noir are refreshingly direct. They are full, ample and plump, nicely concentrated but nicely succulent fruit at the same time. The whites, on the other hand, are exceptional. They are distinctive, full-bodied and long-lasting. They are rich and masculine, firm and concentrated... magnificent producers of burgundies finest.

Châteauneuf-du-Pape ‘Clos des Papes’

The Clos des Papes originally formed part of the papal vineyards, first started bottling its wine as Clos des Papes in 1896 under the auspices of Paul Avril, whose family had been producing wine in the region since the 17th century. The 8th generation Paul sadly passed away in 2009 at the age of 72. His son Paul-Vincent carried on the Clos des Papes legacy, since 1987 Vincent has built the “Clos des Papes” to iconic status, working the vineyard organically and winning the Wine Spectator “Number 1 Wine of the World” in 2007 for the 2005 vintage with the 2015 getting a whopping 97/100 Parker score.

Although the 2005 and 2007 vintages of Clos des Papes are almost universally agreed to be two of the best wines that the estate has ever produced, the 2014 has more finesse and elegance. The vintage received a not-to-be-shrugged at 94 points from Robert Parker, who describes it “as unquestionably a top-flight seductive wine. Every foudre I tasted was beautifully pure displaying a deep ruby/plum color, sweet kirsch and black raspberry fruit, full body, decent acidity and sweet, velvety tannins.”
